

itelligence AG donates EUR 4,000 to the victims of the earthquake in Haiti

Bielefeld, February 1, 2010 – itelligence AG today handed over a check for EUR 4,000 as a contribution to the City of Bielefeld's "Bielefeld helps Haiti" campaign. The employees of the Bielefeld-based full-service IT provider held a spontaneous collection for the victims of the earthquake in the Caribbean at their annual Employee Day. Around 800 employees from Europe and Asia descended on Bielefeld City Hall to attend the Company's European kick-off meeting and learn about the latest figures and IT developments – an important opportunity for consultants from around the world to exchange information on itelligence.

The Company's Management Board, CEO Herbert Vogel and CFO Norbert Rotter, agreed to match the amount collected, meaning that itelligence handed over a check for EUR 4,000 to the Mayor of Bielefeld, Pit Clausen, and Wolfgang Smode and Brigitte Meier from Wirtschaftsentwicklungsgesellschaft Bielefeld GmbH (Wege) today.
