

DSAG conference news: itelligence AG presents Traumziel SAP – Outsourcing SAP service provider itelligence publishes “outsourcing travel guide”

Bielefeld, September 22, 2010 – With last year’s Traumziel SAP (Dream Destination SAP) travel guide, itelligence AG has already demonstrated that it’s possible to present complex topics in a charming and amusing style while still providing very precise information. Now the complete IT service provider is releasing a new travel guide, this time entitled Traumziel SAP – Outsourcing.

Over around 90 pages, the subject of SAP outsourcing is dealt with in a lively and entertaining format. With its fascinating “travel reports” from the field of outsourcing and its insider hints and tips, the elegant travel guide introduces its readers to a whole new universe: the exciting world of outsourcing.

Practical tips, from choosing the right outsourcing partner to the future development of outsourcing, provide readers with valuable pointers for their own work. Short stories about SAP outsourcing convey information about, for example, the varying forms which IT outsourcing takes, contract structure and even data center technology in an interesting way. Even after all that, practical information such as addresses for itelligence branches or tips for actual travel around the world is not forgotten.

The new travel guide will be introduced at the DSAG conference taking place from September 21 to 23 in Nuremberg. With an initial run of 2,500 copies, the travel guide will be available only in German at first. An English version is planned and should be released at the beginning of 2011.

As the DSAG conference gets underway on September 21, further information on both travel guides will be made available on the website at www.itelligence.de/traumziel. If you’re interested, you can use the site to order your personal copy free of charge, amongst other things.
