

itelligence AG wins additional contract for SAP Business ByDesign

Consulting firm expertplace networks group AG decides on mobile SAP Business ByDesign by itelligence

Bielefeld, April 5, 2011 – With expertplace networks group AG, itelligence AG has gained a further customer for SAP Business ByDesign. expertplace offers a comprehensive range of consulting services in the IT environment, from consulting and project management to training and the so-called expert services, which involve the takeover of project services by selected experts. At expertplace networks group AG, itelligence will implement SAP Business ByDesign CRM along the entire value added chain. After a two-week introduction phase, starting in May around 10 employees will work with SAP ByD in Germany.

One of the most important deciding factors for expertplace networks group AG was the maximum support of mobile business processes by SAP ByD. At expertplace, the consulting activities mean that all employees operate in a very distributed and mobile environment – key elements for the success of the relatively new company.

Ralf Klemisch, managing director of expertplace solutions GmbH: "We first want to implement for ourselves the things that we advise our customers about. Therefore, the on-demand solution SAP Business ByDesign is absolutely on track with its future-oriented technology. Already, the first impression of the software solution, paired with the problem-solving competence of our SAP consulting firm itelligence, is setting standards. In this way, we can optimally expand our processes."

Mobility, quick availability and comprehensive process support are the strengths of SAP Business ByDesign. The benefit: The on-demand solution allows employees to access up-to-date data via an Internet connection while they telephone and access data with their mobile terminals such as iPhones and iPads, for example.
